PRESS RELEASE

GE Fanuc Offers Monthly Plant2Enterprise Transformation Webcast Series

Upcoming Webcasts Deliver Roadmap to “Optimize Plant Performance,” Drive Metrics Frameworks, Increase Throughput and Quality, and Decrease Costs

CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA, MAY 16, 2007 GE Fanuc Automation, a unit of GE Industrial, today announced the schedule for four new webcasts in its monthly Plant2Enterprise Transformation webcast series. Attendees will learn how to “Optimize Plant Performance” and have the opportunity to ask questions during live question and answer sessions.

During these free educational webcasts, a panel of industry experts will share how to build a roadmap to transform production operations based on best practices and an in-depth capabilities and results study of more than 200 companies.

To register for the webcasts, click on the following:

- June 20, 2007, 1:00PM ET Optimize Plant Performance: Developing a Roadmap for Improved Production Management \(in Conjunction with Microsoft\)
